Wage Issue Demanded By Murray

Delegates Seem Disinclined to Tackle Subject At Conference

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Unions put aside their bitter wrangling over key posts in the national labor-management conference today for a showdown on the CIO demand that delegates discuss wages.

The issue may pop up at the first (noon EST) session of the executive committee, key conference group empowered to sift all business for formal consideration.

CIO President Philip Murray has contended that wages and a "decent standard of living for the worker" cause all labor troubles and that mere creation of machinery for settling disputes will not solve the pay issue.

So far the majority of the delegates seem disinclined to tackle wages. They point to President Truman's call to the group to work out better methods of collective bargaining. AFL president William Green told them to conference would be doomed to failure if it started talking pay rates.

Machinery Not Enough

R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO auto workers, told the conference yesterday no amount of dispute-settling machinery could prevent strikes.

"You can't make democracy live," Thomas said, "by writing a few formulas down on a piece of paper."

The whole problem will be threshed out in the executive committee. It was because of this, partly, that John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, waged his successful fight yesterday for a seat on the committee. He won with the help of Green's AFL delegates — Lewis has been talking of a possible return to the AFL fold — and over the opposition of the CIO.

Instead of an eight-man executive committee as had been proposed, with labor's four votes divided between the AFL and CIO, the conference agreed to a 16-man committee with labor's eight votes divided three each for CIO and AFL, and one each for Lewis' UMW and the railroad brotherhoods.

Other Issues

Elsewhere in the capital there were these developments on the wage issue:

The national labor relations board pondered whether it may conduct a strike vote by the CIO united steelworkers of Republic Steel corporation while the union has a no-strike contract.

The steel workers asked for the vote after the corporation rejected their request for $2 a day more pay. Republic challenged the request.

At the same time the ground work was laid for a wage discussion in the shipbuilding and repair industry. Ernest A. McMillan, chairman of the national ship building stabilization committee, said there would be a conference on the subject December 4. He will choose the site later.

Road Projects For Pettis County

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—The State Highway Commission Tuesday posted the first 20 projects in Missouri's $90,000,000 postwar road program for bids.

Offers on the construction will be received until 10 a. m. November 30.

Six of the projects are on the federal aid major highway system in Division Six (Kirkwood) while the rest are on the state's supplementary system. Highway department officials have indicated the bulk of the postwar program will not get under way until spring, when weather conditions will be more favorable.

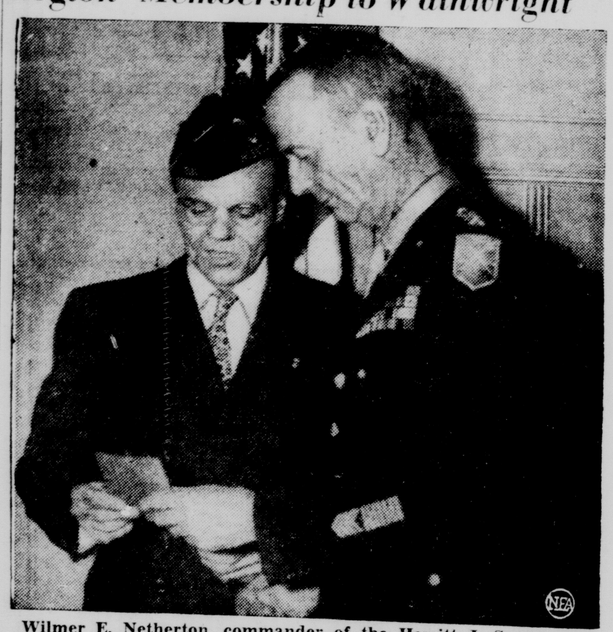

The huge construction program to be spread over the next four years will be financed by $43,121,193 of federal funds and an equal amount of state money.

The first projects advertised, by counties include:

PETTIS—Route C grade, surface and bridge over Flat creek overflow .270 miles Sedalia southeast to Morgan county line; grade and surface .137 miles southeast to Morgan county line (two projects).

MORGAN—Route E, grade and surface 2.060, 2.606 and 3.087 miles route 52 east and north to Moniteau county line (three projects).—Route K, grade and surface 1.257 miles Route E east to Excelsior.

Strong Arms and Nimble Brain Necessary in any Future Wars

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—Regardless of "fantastic products" or research, "we must rely upon the strong arms and nimble brains of America's young men" in future wars, Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright said last night to a mass meeting at a Victory Loan drive.

The phase "push-button war" amused him at first, the general commented, but "now it concerns me, for I fear it will delude some into thinking that whenever danger again threatens we have only to dispatch a superman or Buck Rogers to disperse the foe, while we sit at home in our armchairs and follow the unequal struggle by television."

The highest ranking prisoner of war held by the Japanese voiced approval for unification of the war and navy departments and the air force. He called attention to the conflicts that arose over production and raw materials between the services.

Greater Problem

"Of even greater concern is the fact that separate and unrelated army and navy training programs do not develop the team spirit which is so necessary in time of war," he added.

General Wainwright was presented a life membership card by a Kansas City American Legion Post and took the oath with a class of 3,000 new members recruited from the ranks of World War II.

The general's address culminated a day of activity including a parade here and a visit to the Veterans facility at Wadsworth, Kas.

General Wainwright was scheduled to leave for Topeka, Kas., today and appear in Wichita, Kas., Thursday.

Vote to Resume Operations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Members of the AFL Amalgamated Street Railway and Motor Coach employes voted almost unimously today to resume bus and street car operations in the nation's capital.

An agreement proposed after a conciliation conference earlier in the day was accepted at a mass meeting of the workers at which speakers advocating continuation of the stoppage were booed down.

The action on returning to work was taken on a ballot ending the union's "continuous meeting" which started early yesterday, leaving street cars and busses unmanned.

Several of the speakers said that at the conciliation conference it had been reported that the White House was "perturbed" over the traffic tie-up of the last two days.

And that army intervention was a matter of hours if no settlement was in view.

Claims Legislation Won't Create Jobs

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—"Full employment legislation" introduced in the house "won't create any jobs," Rep. Short (R-Mo) said last night.

"It is nebulous, conceived in obscurity, born in dark places and I hope consigned to obscurity," he said, adding that "it does not provide for full employment or anything else."

John A. Collins, Former War Prisoner Home

Spent Three and One-half Years In Celebes Camp

Corporal John Anderson Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh L. Collins, 911 East Sixth street, is at home after spending three and one-half years as a prisoner of war at Macassar in Celebes, the Netherlands East Indies.

Cpl. Collins said that he and his companions were liberated on August 16, 1945 and flown by the 13th Air Force to Borneo. It was there they received their first American supper, after the years of privation. It really was wonderful, he said.

From Borneo they were flown to Tawitawi in the South Philippines, then to Manila, where they rested for about two weeks, prior to the sea voyage home.

On October 28 they arrived in Seattle, Wash., where they were given a big reception. They were sent to Madigar General hospital in Tacoma, Wash., for a lay-over of three days, then placed on an army hospital train on the North Pacific railroad, going through Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota and to Schick General hospital at Clinton, Iowa. After two days he came on home on a ten-day sick leave, arriving at 5:00 o'clock this morning.

Cpl. Collins said that he is in good health.

He did not get to see his sister, Lt. Laura Collins, U. S. Army Nurse, who is now in the Pacific area and had made an effort to see him in the Philippines before he left for the States.

Leonard Bestgen, uncle of the child, is owner of a terracing company and was moving his equipment from Cameron, Mo., where his company is located, to Versailles. One of his employes was driving a tractor with a trailer and when about 150 feet from the child's home the boy ran out to meet him. Law for Mutual County Help

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—Missouri counties could join for mutual solution of their rural road problems under terms of a bill being drafted by the House committee on local government.

It is the first effort to take advantage of a section in the new constitution allowing not more than ten contiguous counties to join for performing a common function—a compromise between the forces pressing for county consolidation and those opposing outright mergers.

Proposed by the committee of Rep. Douglas Mahnkey (R) of Taney county, the plan would allow counties to band together for bettering rural roads if a majority of the voters in each county approved. County courts, sitting as a district highway commission, would be in charge of buying equipment and hiring personnel.

Any county could withdraw from the association by a majority vote of its citizens.

Sponsors said the plan would prevent duplication in costs and allow more money to be spent for actual maintenance.

Free Lecture On Atomic Bomb Energy

Will be Given at Smith-Cotton Thursday Night

"Is it a real threat to civilization? If so what is the best method of combatting it?" These are two closely knit questions that are being asked concerning atomic energy, community leaders point out, and explanations will be heard Thursday night at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium when Dr. Newell Gingrich, professor of Physics at the University of Missouri, will speak on "Atomic Power and Its Effect on Our Future Lives."

The free lecture is being sponsored by the Pettis County Historical Society of which J. L. Curry is president. The speaker will illustrate his talk with slides.

Further questions that have been propounded during weeks of discussions by laymen following the startling employment of atomic bombs in bringing Japan to her knees, include such as these, the committee in charge of the lecture relates:

"Could a potential enemy, by mastering its secrets, destroy us before we could protect ourselves?"

"Will danger from atomic warfare cause our government to decentralize all major industries? If so what will be the affect on our large cities, our rural communities and ourselves?"

"Will its ominous shadows render our army and navy obsolete?"

On the constructive side of the issue:

"Will our cars be manufactured with built-in power?"

"Will our heating plants be thimble size and come supplied with the necessary fuel required for all future time?"

"Will our hours of labor be reduced and our hours of pleasure increased?"

"Will world travel costs be reduced until we can all become globe-trotters?"

Many of these and other related questions are unanswerable at this time, the sponsoring group's committee stresses, but it was felt that authoritative, scientific information would be of value to the community, Curry stated.

Dr. Gingrich during the war years has been engaged in scientific research including the field of nuclear energy, and has been recommended as a competent speaker to discuss the field of atomic developments. He will begin his lecture Thursday night at 8 o'clock.

Club groups and civic organizations, as well as all interested individuals, are urged to attend.

Bathtub Nightmare

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 7—(AP)—Vincent Totta, aged two and a half, was an interested spectator at the Shrine circus here.

Someone previously had given him a box of soap, each cake shaped like a miniature elephant. When real elephants paraded into the arena, Vincent's grandmother, Mrs. W. E. Urquhart, said:

"Look Vincent, what is that?"

Vincent took one glance and answered seriously:

"Soap."

Democrats Win Election in New York City

Jeffries Wins In Detroit Over Frankensteen

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—(AP)—New York City's Democratic party, riding the crest of William O'Dwyer's smashing triumph in the mayoralty contest, swept into control of the municipal government today in what party leaders heralded as a portent of future state and national election results.

The record breaking victory of the genial, smiling O'Dwyer, who also had American Labor party backing, ended 12 years of poiitical famine for the Democrats.

O'Dwyer will succeed Mayor F. H. LaGuardia who ends a three-term tenure Dec. 31, as leader of the Republican-Fusion forces.

Plum of the victory of the new Democratic-ALP combination is the board of estimate, the city's upper legislative chamber, where the Democrats will command 15 of the 16 votes as the result of yesterday's balloting. It is also likely the party won control of the city council.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 7—(AP)—Gerald L. K. Smith, national director of the America First party with headquarters in Detroit, issued the following statement early today regarding the re-election of Edward J. Jefferies as mayor of Detroit over Richard T. Frankensteen:

"My followers supported Jeffries. Sidney Hillman, Frankensteen and W. Z. Foster made me the issue. The result is the answer."

(Hillman is head of the CIO political action committee and Foster is national chairman of the Communist party.)

Smith told a reporter that he instructed his followers in Detroit to support Jeffries.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 7—(AP)—Bert T. Baker, 73-year-old Republican city judge won reelection yesterday, but it was a hollow victory—he will not even begin his new term.

The mayor of Ithaca will appoint a new city judge Dec. 31, under a 1945 amendment to the state judicial law prohibiting the holding of office by a judge who has reached his 70th birthday.

The amendment was brought to the attention of Tompkins county election officials last week—too late to remove Baker from the ballot.

Ploeser Asks Investigation Of Complaints

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Rep. Ploeser (R-Mo) asked the navy today to investigate complaints that a navy captain disciplined a group of fliers at Okinawa for refusing to fly through a typhoon after the war.

Ploeser's office made public a letter the Missourian wrote Secretary Forrestal. In it the lawmaker said his informant — the wife of one of the pilots — related that during the recent typhoon, the captain ordered six naval fliers and their crews to go to Saipan and obtain beaching gear.

"Because of the immediate and extreme danger in attempting to fly through the typhoon, and because this trip would jeopardize the lives of 66 men, the pilots refused to make the trip," Ploesner wrote.

He added that the captain then reportedly told the fliers they would have their wings taken away and would be compelled to remain on Okinawa 18 months longer although some were eligible for discharge.

Poorly Equipped

"It is my understanding," Ploeser continued, "that the captain refused to permit the pilots to move their planes to a place of safety and all planes but one were wrecked in the storm."

Ploeser's office said one of the pilots whose home is in St. Louis, wrote his wife that the captain "made us move ashore on Okinawa without giving us any food, water or a place to live."

The fliers succeeded in talking some Seabees out of a 50-feet tent cases of food, cans of water and army cots.

"We have borrowed and stolen equipment from every outfit on the island," the pilot wrote.

He added he was writing the letter in the light of a lamp made from a beer can filled with oil found on the beach. A stove was made from stones and mud.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Secretary of State Byrnes reported today that the United States is planning to withdraw American marines from China.

The marines are now occupying various strategic towns between Communist forces and Central Government armies.

Byrnes said the marines went to northern China to help Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek take the Japanese surrender and disarm Nipponese forces numbering about 1,500,000 to 2,000,000.

Byrnes said that he could not say when the marines would be withdrawn or whether they would all be pulled out at once or come out peacemeal.

Mo. Highway Troopers Shoot And Kill Man

Stopped to Ask Him About Filling Station Robberies

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 7—(AP)—Col. Hugh H. Waggoner of the Missouri Highway Patrol said today two patrol troopers shot and killed Adolph Francis Leach, 19, of Norborne, Mo., in a running gun battle near Chillicothe last night.

Waggoner said Leach was wanted by Kansas City police for questioning about the October 18 shooting of Maurice Mellick, plainclothes member of the police force there.

The patrol supervisor said Troopers Walter E. Wilson and F. S. Farmer stopped Leach on Highway 36 about 10 p. m. to ask him if he had anything to do with two filling station robberies in Chillicothe earlier in the evening.

"But Leach ran off the road into the woods," Waggoner said, "firing at our officers as he ran."

Both troopers were emptying their guns at the fugitive when he fell with a bullet through his heart.

Leach, originally from Norborne, had spent several terms in the Missouri Training School for Boys and the state penitentiary. He had been arrested by the highway patrol and Kansas City police before, Waggoner said.

Court Order On Bus Strike

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7—(AP)—Bus terminal and garage facilities were restored to non-striking bus lines today following issuance of a circuit court order yesterday enjoining picketing of the properties. Pickets were absent today and bus service which had been on a "curbstone" basis for six days was back to normal.

The order was issued by circuit judge William S. Connor on petition of the Greyhound Terminal of St. Louis, Inc. It was directed against 25 members of the AFL Amalgamated Street Railway and Motor Coach employes of America, whose strike for higher wages has halted bus service on seven lines.

Employes of the terminal and garage had refused to cross the picket lines, shutting down terminal facilities and forcing other lines to load and unload passengers in the street and service their busses outside St. Louis. The result, the petition stated, was that employes had been intimidated and customers confused.

Robert Dooley In Colorado

Gene Allen Frenette, apprehended by police at Sterling, Colo., was found to be Robert Dooley, of Sedalia, who escaped from Algoa, intermediate reformatory, September 25, according to the Jefferson City Capital-News today. The item stated he waived extradition and will be returned to Missouri.

Dooley was sentenced to ten years in the reformatory for the holdup shooting of Forrest P. Norris, at his hamburger stand, Third street and Engineer avenue, March 26.

Lawrence Keele, USN, charged with being implicated in the holdup, has been tried twice in the circuit court, both trials resulting in a hung jury.

Measure is Killed

JEFFERSON CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—A plan to amend the new Missouri constitution to give legislators $5 a day expenses was killed today by the senate elections committee.

The bill, embodying a similar proposal was vetoed by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly last spring.

Opposes Telling Russia

Churchill Urges Attlee not to Bring Pressure to Share Bomb Secret

By Alex H. Singleton

LONDON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Winston Churchill expressed conviction today that Soviet Russia would not share the atomic bomb secret if she alone held it, and urged Prime Minister Attlee in his forthcoming Washington talks to bring no "pressure" on the United States to divulge the bomb's production details.

"I am sure," Churchill said, "that were the circumstances reversed and we or the Americans asked for similar access to Russian arsenals, it would not be granted."

The former prime minister mentioned assistance furnished the Russians during the war, including radar "and other matters," and said he was "not conscious of any considerable reciprocity."

But he declared in almost the same breath:

"Any idea of Britain deliberately pursuing an anti-Russian policy or taking part in making a combination to the detriment of Russia is thoroughly opposed to British thought and conscience.

"Nothing but a long period of marked injuries and antagonisms could develop any such matter again in this land."

Praises Stalin

Opening Common's first full dress debate on foreign policy since Britain's labor government assumed power, Churchill, as leader of the conservative opposition, praised Generalissimo Stalin as a "great man," and said the Russian leader "is still strongly holding the helm and steering his tremendous ship."

Churchill expressed the hope that Britain would adhere to the 12-point American foreign policy program enunciated by President Truman in New York Navy Day.

"We should make clear to the United States," Britain's war time prime minister said, "that we will march at their side in the cause President Truman has defined. This is our chance of survival and it may even be of safety and, with safety, a vast extension of prosperity."

"A Sacred Trust"

Saying that Britain should help the United States guard the atom bomb "as a sacred trust for the maintenance of peace," Churchill nevertheless declared at one point that Britain "should make atomic bombs ourselves and have them here, even if manufactured elsewhere, in suitable safe storage, with the least possible delay."

He asserted the future of the atomic bomb should be decided by parliaments and responsible governments and "not by scientists, however eminent or ardent they may be."

Churchill's statement came a day after Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov told the Russians in a Moscow address that the atomic bomb could not be kept secret and that the Soviet union would have "atomic energy and many other things."

Britain's war time prime minister told Commons that Generalissimo Stalin "is still strongly holding the helm and steering his tremendous ship," the Soviet Union.

B-29 Bomber Crashes, Burns

CHICO, Calif., Nov. 7—(AP)—A B-29 army bomber crashed and burned last night six miles southeast of the Chico Army Air Field, and officials of the base doubted this morning that the four crewmen aboard survived.

Smoldering wreckage was spotted from the air in darkness soon after the big, four-engined craft plunged to the earth at 7:15 p. m. PST (10:15 p. m CST), Col. A. W. Tyer, commanding officer of the field, reported.

Salvage crews, hiking in through wild, mountainous country, had not reached the scene six hours after the crash.

The bomber was en route from Lowry Field, Denver to Chico where it was to have been stationed.

She was swollen with gas, full of bloat, had headaches, felt worn out and was badly constipated. Finally she got ERB-HELP and says she now eats everything in sight and digests it perfectly. Bowels are regular and normal. She is enjoying life once more and feels like "some other woman" since taking this New Compound.

ERB-HELP contains 12 Great Herbs; they cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering! Get ERB-HELP. Sold by All Drug Stores here in Sedalia.

Republicans For It In Inquiring On Pearl Harbor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Republicans demanded the right to conduct their own Pearl Harbor investigation Tuesday while Democrats replied that committee members should not be permitted to go "running off in various directions."

In a noisy debate that crackled in both senate and house, minority members of the joint investigating committee declared the inquiry had halted before it got started because the Democrats "are slamming the door in our face."

The hubbub arose over a committee rule restricting the rights of individual members to make inquiries on their own.

Senator Brooks (R.-Ill.) evoked a Democrat complaint of unfairness when he declared President Truman had switched tactics since he was chairman of the Truman investigating committee. Brooks said that as head of that senate committee, which investigated the war effort, Mr. Truman had authorized individual inquiries.

Calling these remarks "unfair," Senator Murdock (D.-Utah) demanded:

"What has the President of the United States got to do with the rules of a (congressional) committee?"

Senator Brewster (R.-Maine) declared the rule was the President's decision, not the committee's. He added:

"I have not been too critical of him because I understand that his decision was on the advice of the secretary of the navy."

Brooks called on Republican members of the committee to "resign if they don't give you as much authority as an assistant attorney." This followed his statement that the committee had authorized "assistant attorneys" to investigate what he called "the worst naval defeat administered to one country at one time in the history of governments."

In the house, Reps. Gearhart (R.-Calif.) and Keefe (R.-Wis.), members of the 10-man senate-house committee, declared the Democrats were "protecting" someone by denying individual members access to government records.

Rep. Cooper (D.-Tenn.), vice chairman of the committee, retorted that this wasn't a one-man investigation, that "everybody who has any information will be invited to testify" at public hearings starting Nov. 15.

AN IMPORTANT DATE FOR THOUSANDS OF ARMY VETERANS
NOW IN CIVILIAN LIFE

BETWEEN now and November 21, thousands of Army veterans will reenlist in Uncle Sam's new peacetime Regular Army. Because—men who have been discharged between May 12 and November 1 of this year and reenlist on or before November 21 will be able to return to the Army with the same grade as they held at the time they were discharged.

Men with six months of satisfactory service discharged as privates will, on reenlistment before November 21, be given the grade of private first class.

Men now in the Army who apply for discharge after NOVEMBER 1 for the purpose of reenlisting in the Regular Army will also retain their present grades, if they enlist within 20 days after discharge and before FEBRUARY 1, 1946.

"BEST JOB IN THE WORLD"

Can you think of any other job that gives you good pay, food, clothing, quarters, medical and dental care, world-wide travel, 30 days' furlough every year, education and training in any of 200 skills or trades, and enables you to retire with a life income any time after 20 years' service?

There isn't any! That's why a job in the new peacetime Regular Army has been called "The Best Job in the World."

These are only highlights of the new Armed Forces Voluntary Recruitment Act of 1945. Every American should know the full story. Stop at your Army Recruiting Station and get all the facts.

4. The best pay scale, medical care, food, quarters and clothing of any army.
5. An increase in the reenlistment bonus to $50 for each year of active service since such bonus was last paid, or since last entry into service.
6. 20% extra pay for overseas service.

Red Cross Corner

The death of Mr. Arthur Kahn takes from the Pettis County chapter a most faithful friend and supporter. Always vitally interested in the work of the Red Cross, international, national and local, Mr. Kahn was a contributor in every sense of the word. The success of any volunteer organization depends in large measure upon the strength of leading men and women of the community; men and women whose calibre is such that they will stand behind the organization through thick and thin; men and women whose chief aim in life is to build and to create; men and women who have the ability to look into the future and to plan accordingly. Of this calibre was Arthur Kahn. During the years before this country's entrance into the World War, during that war, during the subsequent years of peace and depression, and during the years of the Global War, Mr. Kahn was chief among a group of influential Sedalia citizens who formed the virtual backbone of our Red Cross chapter. His place will not be easily filled. His memory is a vital one.

Together with several other adjacent counties, Pettis county, through the Camp and Hospital Council, has prepared 25 boxes to be sent overseas for the assurance of a Merry Christmas for servicemen who will spend the holiday season far from home. Each box contained 6 gifts and each was wrapped in keeping with the Christmas spirit. For the boys in the SAAF hospital, Father Andrew J. Brunswick has contributed a radio. George Yeaman, chairman of the council is hard at work with his plans for the Christmas programs in preparation for the patients at the Station Hospital.

The Junior Red Cross is seeking 100 per cent enrollment of all Pettis county and Sedalia schools in its membership campaign which will be conducted from November 1 to 15, Miss Nettie Lamm, JRC chairman of the Pettis county chapter, announced today.

It is to be hoped that the enrollment this year will be so successful that every boy and girl in our community will be given the opportunity to participate in the worthwhile activities of the world's largest youth organization. Membership in the American Junior Red Cross is close to 20 million. Local members of JRC are credited with a commendable production record for last year. The peace won by the Allied Nations must be kept largely by the students of today, and the Junior Red Cross program contributes definitely toward the training necessary for their assumption of tthose new responsibilities.

The Boy Scouts will hold their summer camp at Pin Oak on the Lake of the Ozarks again this year, I. W. Wall, scout executive, announced today.

The camp will run this year from May 26 to June 22 and will be a four-week encampment in place of the two weeks used last summer. Interest in the camp necessitated the additional two weeks and even the extra time will not permit every scout to attend the camp. The camp will cost $10 a week this year. Tentative plans at this time indicate that Arthur Schlumbohm, field executive, will serve as camp director.

It is hoped that troops planning to attend the camp will start their plans now in order that the unit may register just as soon as the registration material is in their hands.

'Hear Threats' To Unionize

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 7—(AP)—Richard J. Connor, administrator of the state cancer hospital in Columbia, told a Missouri senate appropriations committee today he had "heard of threats to unionize the workers of the University of Missouri, Stephens College and Christian College—and then the hospitals in Columbia."

His statement was made in answer to a query from Sen. Michael Kinney (D) of St. Louis, who asked if the hospital would allow union agents to solicit membership on ground belonging to the state of Missouri.

Connor did not know what union was planning the organization, he said, adding that he had first heard of the rumored move at a routine meeting of the cancer hospital staff.

He said union organizers would not be allowed to solicit on the grounds of the hospital.

Sen. H. R. Williams (R) of Cassville, majority floor leader, declared he'd "never vote appropriations on the floor of the senate for any outfit organized by unions."

Wants Draft Ended at Once

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7—(AP)—Senator Revercomb (D-WVa) said today that unless the army and navy quit drafting men "this week" congress should proceed immediately to end selective service itself.

Revercomb, a member of the senate military committee, told a reporter figures show that the draft—which took millions of men into service — can now roll to a dead stop without impairing occupation forces.

This comment was in amplification of a senate speech in which he said voluntary enlistment program is getting all the men the army and navy need. Revercomb added on the floor that unless the services act promptly, "there will be legislation offered."

"You recall that President Truman fixed the number of draft calls per month at 50,000 in order not to delay the return of soldiers who have served overseas," he said in the interview.

"Now, it is very patent that volunteers are far exceeding the selective service number. It is a matter of reasoning, a matter of logical deductions."

Revercomb also plugged hard for the release of men with dependents.

Other senators joined in —when Revercomb broached his proposal for an end to the draft — with complaints about demobilization.

Want Action on Osceola Dam

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—Representatives of the Osage river basin demanded at a meeting yesterday that immediate action be taken on the proposed Osceola dam.

The group met with army engineers, Harry Darby, Republican national committeeman from Kansas, managing editor Roy A. Roberts of the Kansas City Star and Perrin D. McElroy, secretary of the building and construction trades council in Kansas City.

The proposed dam, a part of the Pick-Sloan plan for the development of the Missouri river, has been "dragging for years," J. W. Thurman, Osceola business man said.

"The farmer doesn't know whether or not to build a fence or cultivate a field, the merchant doesn't know whether to stock his store," he continued, "we have put the heat on in Washington and want some heat turned on from Kansas City."

Commenting on a proposal Thurman said was sponsored by Marion T. Bennett, Springfield, Mo., congressman from the sixth district, to have a dam located on the White river, Thurman stated, "We won't stand for that."

THIS, we reasoned, is no time to offer folks a car that stops with artful face-lifting.

It has been nearly four years since our last new Buick was built—it wouldn't be shooting square now to give you less than our honor-bright best.

So we overhauled our whole factory to advantage it with the latest in war-developed machines and processes.

We scoured the country for the stoutest metals anyone can buy today.

We set ourselves precisions that in some cases exceed those of aircraft engine production.

And we eagle-eyed every one of this Buick's 12,000 parts to see if it could be bettered in any way, big or little.

The result is that through every stunning inch of this bright new honey runs solid, dependable Buick character, honest and uncompromised.

It's in swift clean lines. In seats that are three-persons wide. In stout, time-defying frames and underpinning. Above all — in the lift and life of a Fireball straight-eight that's even livelier than in 1942.

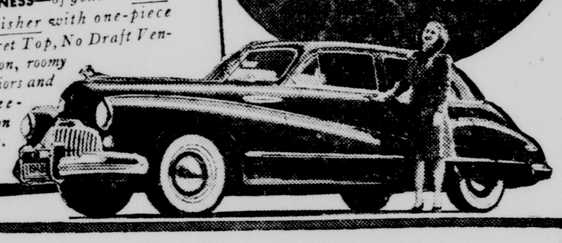

The cars your Buick dealer will have are big. They're beautiful. They're Buicks.

In fact — the best Buicks yet!

What other car has so much that clicks for Forty-Six!

POWER—from a Buick Fireball valve-in-head straight-eight engine that gets peak return from every drop of fuel.
HIGH STYLE—of car-length Airfoil fenders with bolt-on rear wheel shields.
OIL SAVINGS—from non-scuffing Accurite cylinder bores.
FLASHING ACTION—of light, lively Fliteweight pistons.
STEADINESS—from full-length torque-tube drive in a sealed chassis.
COMFORT—of soft Foamtex cushions with luxury-type springs.
SURE FOOTING—of Broadrim wheels; maximum tire mileage, no heel-over on curves, and better car control.
PROTECTION—of buttressed front and rear bumpers, curved to shield fenders, built for new bumper jack.

Wayfarer On Last Journey To See Maker Of World

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Nov. 7 —(AP)—A Negro wayfarer has started on his last long journey—to see the maker of the world he wandered over.

'Way back in the 1870's Robert Stokes heard a preacher say that "God owns the world and all that's in it," and the stripling son of a slave mother started out afoot from Jefferson City to see the fabulous property of the Lord.

For 30 years the brawny young Negro wandered. During that time he worked on a tramp freighter as a shanghaied galley hand, as a porter on one of the the relief expeditions sent into Africa to aid the Stanley expedition, as one of a party which penetrated barren Siberia, frigid Alaska and torrid jungles of South America.

In between his peregrinations, Stokes worked variously as a lumberjack and waiter. He used to recount having served former President Theodore Roosevelt on a railroad dining car. And at one time in California, he served the former heavyweight champion, John L. Sullivan.

Of Sullivan, he said, "of all the men I have ever seen he had the biggest appetite. He ate more at one meal than five average men would eat."

"But in 1913," he once told a friend, "just 30 years after I left home, I got homesick. So I came to Jefferson City to be with my mother. She died the following year and her dying wish was that I stay here and run this little hotel for white folks. So here I am, tied down."

Monday, he started his final trip in a quiet easy death at 83 (according to his best count).

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

The latest election returns today show that the Democrats have carried the mayoralty campaign in New York City; the state ticket in Pennsylvania; Ohio by a plurality of 40,000; the state ticket in Virginia and the city ticket in Louisville, while the Republicans have made a clean sweep in Massachusetts, Chicago and Cook county and have carried their tickets in New Jersey, Rhode Island, Nebraska and Maryland. In New York Hearst had a plurality in the borough of Brooklyn of almost 16,000 with 14 election districts missing. The returns indicate McClellan's re-election by a small plurality. Hearst has charged fraud in the voting and says he will contest.

John M. Baldwin and Sons sold to M. S. Durrill two saddle stallions and two jacks, the consideration being $975. The animals were purchased for shipment to Mexico.

The Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip will serve a chicken supper at the parlors of the First Christian church from 5 to 9 p. m. tomorrow and the men will wait on the tables.

Rudolph F. Dean will complete the wrecking of the old Muckey building on West Main street today and the work of erecting a new three-story business building on the old site will be commenced immediately.

Thanks to the 66th For Thankless Job

By NEA Service

The Sixty-Sixth (Black Panther) Infantry Division was assigned two vitally important and at the same time singularly thankless tasks, in the European war theater. The division did both jobs well and with excellent results.

The first of these labors was the buttoning up of the 50,000 Nazi troops trapped in the St. Nazairne and Lorient pockets. The 66th doughboys penned the Nazis in as though they were a herd of swine. In the five months from the start of the assignment to V-E Day, the enemy made many attempts to break out of the Black Panther's corral of men and steel, but they were repulsed every time.

The Nazi troops surrendered to the 66th on May 8, 1945. By this surrender the Black Panthers not only took the arms from some 50,000 Nazis, but liberated 856 square miles of French territory and freed 180,000 civilians who had been held as prisoners by the Germans.

The second unglamorous task of the 66th commenced after V-E Day. The division was assigned to guard three staging areas, including the great port of Marseilles. It was the job of the Black Panthers to see that the ports of embarkation, from which American troops flowed toward home and the Pacific theater of war, were kept running smoothly during the great task of re-deployment.

STOP! Look Out For LARGE ROUND Worms
Feed Peters SWINE MIXTURE POWDER
Contains PHENOTHIAZINE AS ACTIVE INGREDIENT

VERY tasteful to swine. This powder contains Phenothiazine, often referred to as the "Wonder Drug," as the active ingredient. Phenothiazine is the only drug which has been found effective in removing nodular worms in swine, and is also effective in reducing large round-worm infestation.

We have found that swine will not always readily eat straight Phenothiazine powder, as it seems distasteful. However, Peters SWINE MIXTURE POWDER, containing Phenothiazine, IS VERY TASTEFUL!

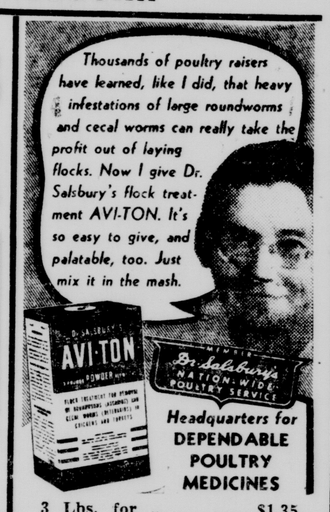

Peters Scientists have, by adding other ingredients to powdered Phenothiazine succeeded in perfecting a very palatable mixture which is readily eaten by pigs and hogs.

SWINE raisers have welcomed enthusiastically this newest Peters product because by feeding this preparation they get away from the necessity of catching each individual animal.

The Daily Washington

Merry-Go-Round

by Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 7 — In Monday's column it was revealed that the army board probing Pearl Harbor had written a supplemental report marked "top secret," not hitherto published. Among other things it discloses that a secret Jap message was received and decoded on November 20, 1941, two weeks before Pearl Harbor. The decoded message read if Tokyo broadcast the phrase "East wind rain" it was to mean war with the United States at any moment. "West wind clear" was to mean war with Great Britain.

This "winds" message is part of the file which Republican members of the Pearl Harbor committee claim is missing. Six copies of the decoded "winds" message were made and distributed to different branches of the government but the original copy made by the navy has disappeared from the files, and some insiders now contend that this advance warning never was received.

The "winds" message in navy file "No. 7001," contained the logs of three navy monitoring stations which tuned in on Jap short-wave broadcasts. This entire file has disappeared.

Army's Secret History

However, ample information remains in the files to get an all-too-clear picture of what happened inside the war-navy departments when the advance Jap warning was received. It is given in detail in the secret report of the army's Pearl Harbor investigating committee.

On December 4, three days before Pearl Harbor, Tokyo sent out the "winds" message notifying the Jap embassies and all Jap ships that war would come any moment. Rear Admiral Leigh Noyes, chief of the naval communications section, phoned this information to Col. Otis K. Sadtler of army intelligence at 9:30 a. m. December 5.

Colonel Sadtler immediately notified Gen. Sherman Miles, head of military intelligence and Col. R. S. Bratton, army intelligence expert on the Far East. The secret army report then states that Sadtler was instructed to call Admiral Noyes back and get the exact text of the "winds" message. However, Noyes refused to talk to him.

The admiral explained that he was in conference and "too busy," but would attend to the matter later.

"That may be too late," Colonel Sadtler frantically reported to General Miles.

Miles promptly contacted Gen. Leonard Gerow, chief of the war plans division, suggesting that army leaders in Hawaii be advised at once of the Jap war messages. Colonel Sadtler also talked to General Gerow, stating: "War is coming and coming quickly."

However, he got nowhere. General Gerow took the position that military chiefs at Hawaii already had "plenty of information."

Pearl Harbor Warned

In this connection it should be noted that on November 27, one week before, Adm. Husband Kimmel in Pearl Harbor had received a message reading: "This dispatch is to be considered a war warning. Negotiations with Japan and an aggressive move by Japan is expected within the next few days." A similar warning had been sent to General Short by the war department. Other warnings had been sent on Nov. 28 and Nov. 30. This was why the Roberts report pinned the blame on Short and Kimmel.

Meanwhile in Washington, the secret army report reveals that another ominous Jap war message was intercepted. This was a note from Tokyo to its Berlin embassy for transmission to Hitler. Sent on November 30, the message assured Hitler of continued cooperation and characterized as "insulting" Secretary Hull's final peace proposal of November 28 requiring the Japs to break with the Axis and remove their troops from China. The message to Hitler further stated that the United States considered Japan, "along with Germany and Italy, as an enemy."

Colonel Sadtler next appealed to Col. Bedell Smith, now a lieutenant general on General Eisenhower's staff in Germany, but then secretary to the general staff and right hand man to Chief of Staff Marshall.

Smith also was unreceptive to suggestions that further warnings be given army leaders in Pearl Harbor, according to the secret army report. When he learned that the matter already had been taken up with the war plans division, he "declined to discuss the matter further."

Finally Colonels Sadtler and Bratton induced General Gerow of the war plans division to have naval intelligence in Washington inform naval chiefs in Pearl Harbor of the recent messages with the idea that the navy in turn would inform General Short. However, this round-the-bush scheme never went through.

Reason behind this involved plan, presumably, was the fact that Admiral Kimmel, not General Short, was responsible for the main defense of Pearl Harbor. Under army-navy rules, the army planes were not permitted to fly out over the water from Pearl Harbor more than 100 miles and it was up to the navy to do long-range scouting for the enemy. Admiral Kimmel, despite the war warning given him on November 28, was not sending out scouting planes.

Red Tape in Washington

On December 6, one day before Pearl Harbor, came the final chapter in the fantastic drama. Late that night, Tokyo sent another coded message to the Japanese ambassador in Washington giving Tokyo's reply to Hull's peace proposal of November 28.

The lengthy message was in 14 parts and flatly rejected Hull's terms. The fourteenth part was received by Ambassador Nomura just after midnight and informed him that another important message would be forthcoming in a few hours.

Meanwhile our own code experts were at work on the message and decoded it almost as fast as it was received by the Jap embassy.

And according to the army's "top secret" report, when they got to the fourteenth part of the message, the tone was considered so hostile and unequivocal as to be a virtual declaration of war.

Early in the morning of December 7, Ambassador Nomura received his final message. It was an instruction to present the long 14-point reply to Secretary Hull "NM PM."

Washington Delays

At about 8:30 Sunday morning, Colonel Bratton tried to reach General Marshall. The chief of staff was out horseback riding. He did not return until 11:25. So, at about noon, Marshall finally sent a message to General Short which went by RCA and did not reach Pearl Harbor until 22 minutes before the Japs struck. It was not decoded and handed to Short until after the day's fighting was over.

Tipoff to the mistake made by General Marshall and others was that he phoned General MacArthur in Manila, whereas he sent the message to General Short by slow cable. This was the mistake also made by the navy and by Admiral Kimmel. The navy's war warning to Kimmel on November 27 suggested that the Japs might attack "the Philippines, Thai, the Kra peninsula or possibly Borneo." It directed the admiral "to execute an appropriate defense deployment."

However, when Capt. Edwin T. Layton informed Kimmel on December 2 that four Jap airplane carriers had broken away from the rest of the fleet, were unlocatable, and might even be rounding Diamond Head of Pearl Harbor, Kimmel took no steps to scout for them or to be on the alert. These were the carriers from which, five days later, were launched the planes that sank the backbone of the U. S. fleet at Pearl Harbor.

An impartial reading of the facts, both those still secret and those hitherto published, shows conclusively that Kimmel and Short received ample warning—even as early as October 16—that Japan might attack the United States. U. S. policy was that "it was desirable for Japan to commit the first overt act, in case hostilities could not be avoided" Finally, it is clear that everyone, both in Washington and Hawaii, expected Japan to attack the Philippines of the Dutch East Indies.

No one expected the attack to come at Pearl Harbor. And when Franklin Roosevelt, who had taken such pride in building up the navy, received the crushing news the afternoon of Sunday, December 7, he put his hands to his head and said: "My God, My God, How could it have happened?"

Three Years Ago Today: Yanks Moved Into Africa

Springboard was established for invasion of Southern Europe.

Nazi threat to Suez and India was smashed, Hitler's armies were thrown back into Europe.

U. S. supply route to Egypt was shortened 7000 miles, taking heavy load off hazardous Murmansk route.

On Nov. 7, 1942, America was electrified by the news that the Yanks had invaded German-held North Africa. But the cheers which greeted it might have been hushed had the public realized the desperation which inspired the daring move. Rommel's advances into Egypt and German successes along the southeastern Russian front threatened complete collapse of the Middle East, loss of the Suez canal and the vital Abadan oil supply. The African invasion — called "Operation Torch" — was successful beyond original hopes. Maps above indicate direct major benefits derived. The North African campaign resulted in 349,206 enemy troops killed and captured and the capture of destruction of 200,000 tons of enemy material.

RUSSIAN NOBILITY IN EXILE

XXVII

WHEN I arrived in Paris, I was shocked beyond measure to see how ill mother looked and how much she had aged in the past few months. The first thing I did was call in Doctor Gros of the American Hospital in Neuilly, despite her protestations, and when he arrived I had the greatest difficulty persuading her to allow an examination. When it was over, he had a long talk with me and very frankly said that mother was seriously ill, that unless she had complete rest from work, worry, and agitation, her illness could take a very dangerous turn. He had found her very hard to handle and had warned her as kindly as possible about her condition.

She was nervous and ill all through Christmas, worrying continually about getting back to work and my brother's needs. I wrote father about her health, begging him to come as soon as possible. When he cabled that he would be with us in early summer, she immediately decided not to be in Paris at that time, as she had every intention of rejoining the Swedish project.

Bunnie promised to stay with her while I went down to Nice for the New Year's engagement I had accepted some months previously for the Rhul. That was one of the saddest New Years I ever spent, for I had to work the contract and needed the money, but the thought of mother's condition was always with me.

* * *

WE had a mild March, that year of grace 1926, and mother began to improve. She went out a little but was still not herself and often felt very sad. It was hard for me, too. I could not be with her enough and do all the work I had contracted for, and I longed for my father to come over.

One day, while driving past the Banque de Varsovie, near the Bourse, I noticed the familiar figure of a tall elegant man dressed in livery, opening the doors of the bank to the callers. There was something about him that caused me to slacken speed, and as I drew alongside the curb, I recognized him as Prince Alexis, the husband of Helena Soltikoff, daughter of the Princess I had known as a child. He was so happy to see me again he nearly cried, and told me his wife and sister-in-law Choura were both sewing lingerie in the Galerie Lafayette (the large department store). I invited them all to dinner, and upon this occasion, mother, for the first time in weeks, perked up. We saw a great deal of her old Russian friends from then on, many of whom we did not even know were in Paris.

They were an extraordinary colony, most of them living from hand to mouth, but many working hard were getting along pretty well.

Mother, always happy when she was exhausting herself running about for people she liked, badgered all her friends into buying lingerie from Helena and Choura. She also obtained a position for Alexis with the Isola Brothers' offices at the Opera Comique. As in Constantinople, Russians flooded the house, and those we could not help overflowed into Violette's chateau in Marseilles. One evening Alexis arrived at the Palace, where I was working, with another Russian friend, Prince Poutatine, to fetch me for a surprise party they were giving for both mother and myself.

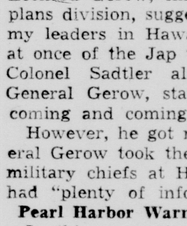

* * *

THE party was a typical Russian evening, held in the Poutatines' tiny house on the Cite des Fleurs, an ancient street in Montmartre where the houses seemed to be holding each other up as they sagged and drooped from old age. Our hosts' place was one of these and had three steps leading down to the front door, which had just given way under the weight of entering guests and were in consequence a trifle hard to navigate. Once inside, though, the scene was perfectly charming, for Princess Poutatine had somehow or other obtained a few portraits and souvenirs from Russia, and the rest of the furnishings were antiques bought for a few francs in the Foire des Puces. Restored and arranged with perfect taste, they made a delightful interior.

The rooms were lighted with candles, and there were flowers everywhere. Our hostess, a beautiful tall woman, was gowned, as were Helena, Choura, and the others, in perfect creations which must have cost all kinds of money. The elite of the Russian colony had gathered together that night, all the men in faultless evening clothes, and in the corner of the room were the inevitable Tziganski singers with guitars.

Tables were piled high with caviar, chicken, and buckets of champagne. There was an even more expensive Russian custom besides the classic one of breaking glasses, which consisted of a pyramid built with champagne goblets, over which a servant poured wine till it formed a cascade and spilled onto the floor. As each guest took a glass, drained it and hurled it behind him, the Tzigane songs rose to a wild crescendo. I was astounded at such a reckless display of luxury and wondered how on earth they had managed it. When I questioned them they said, "This is a party we will never forget. We want to be happy just this one night, even if we starve for the rest of the year. Tonight everything must be perfect, like the old days in Russia. Please understand and enjoy yourself with us." I spent the rest of the evening reciting Pushkin, while mother sang the songs they loved. I think they were really happier than they had been for a long time.

Self-Regulation A Public Service

Bert Childers asked Sam Abernathy, the storekeeper, "who is this fellow Pierce who made such a fine talk the other night before the Commercial Club?"

Sam answered without ever looking up from sacking the salt and coffee Ma Hoskins was buying.

"Walker Pierce is director of the brewing industry's self-regulation program in Missouri. He urges full compliance with all liquor control laws by those selling beer, so the public can enjoy drinking the beverage of moderation in clean, wholesome surroundings."

From where I sit, the brewing industry's efforts to keep its house in order, deserves a vote of thanks from all right-minded people like Sam Abernathy. Self-regulation means that those who want a refreshing glass of beer can enjoy it in orderly and wholesome surroundings.

Graham Wins An Unpopular Decision

Nearly Starts Riot During Match With Vic Holbrook

Ray Graham, Dallas, Texas, won his match with Vic Holbrook, Hollywood, Calif., but not until after he had almost created another riot, because of his method of wrestling, (slugfest tactics) and then won on default.

Graham and Holbrook started off the match (or bout) in a real wrestling exhibition, but it soon wore off and the slugging started. Holbrook after being cuffed around came back and landed several haymakers on Graham, and then grabbed the big boy from Texas and applied the "abdominal stretch" and won the fall in 11 minutes and 25 seconds.

The second fall for nine minutes was one of the roughest seen in the local ring. Graham used a series of headlocks and then would slam Holbrook on the forehead until he broke the skin and the Hollywood wrestler began bleeding.

This became too much for Ralph Garibaldi and he jumped upon the ring with a towel and endeavored to wipe Holbrook's forehead when he got in a corner. Graham took a couple of passes at him but was kept from reaching him by Referee Jimmy Parker, a heavyweight wrestler also. Then a woman's shoe came flying through the air from the crowd on the north side of the ring, and Graham grabbed it and slugged Holbrook over the eye with the high heel. Holbrook was unable to continue and went to the dressing room, the fall going to Graham, in nine minutes and 30 seconds.

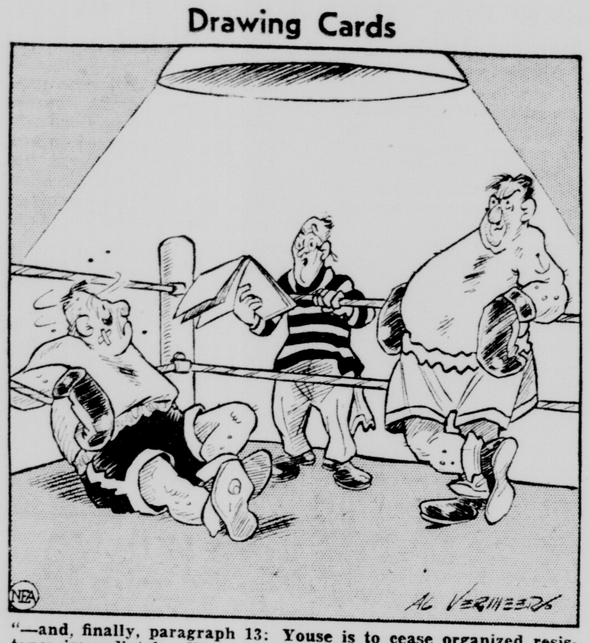

When Dr. Kenneth Holdren examined Holbrook he refused to let him return to the ring for the third fall and it automatically went to Graham because of the default.

Carl G. Schrader, State Inspector for the Missouri Athletic Commission also took a hand. After the act of Graham using the shoe he ordered Promoter Simon Kalis to hold up Graham's part of the purse until a report could be made to the commission.

Ken Fenelon, Dubuque, Ia., and Ralph Garibaldi, East St. Louis, Ill., went to a draw in the semi-windup. Garibaldi won the first fall in 19 minutes using the Indian death lock. Fenelon came back to take the second fall with his famous Iowa Stopper, in nine minutes. The bell rang before a third fall could be made. This match was well accepted by the local fans.

Danny Fenelon, cousin of Ken, won his match in the preliminary by using the "Southern Cross" a combination of the body press and wrist lock. Time of the fall was 11 minutes and 25 seconds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7—(AP)—Look out, Gunder: . . . From Tientsin, China, S/Sgt. Norris Anderson sends the news that some marines who had marvelled at the endurance of Ricksha coolies decided to clock one . . . They measured off a mile (via jeep speedometer) and started coolie Lee Wong trotting the distance, towing several hundred pounds of marine-manned ricksha . . . when they looked at the watch, it registered 4:58 . . . "Haegg and Andersson must have someone to race in the next Olympics," suggests Sgt. Anderson, "but we doubt here if our ricksha-miler can be pried away from his business or his three kids."

From the morning mail: "I have been coaching Boykins high school basketball team for three years and at the end of last season I had compiled a streak of 46 games lost in a row. Tonight we opened our '45 campaign and my boys obliged by a 21-11 licking.

The Orange Bowl, which plans to have an eastern team in the New Year's football game every year, starting this season, apparently is down to one candidate. Since Columbia declared itself out, the Miami scouts are looking to Holy Cross, provided Koslowski and Co. gets past Temple . . . . Did you know that William Buckingham Ewing, who is listed that way in Baseball's Hall of Fame, never had such a middle name? His daughter recently revealed that the "Buckingham" came from some sportswriter's elaboration of his nickname, "Buck."

Keen Interest In Football Game Saturday

Controversy Over Tickets for Game November 24

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 7—(AP)—Saturday will be the second most important football day of the season for supporters of the Oklahoma Sooners and Missouri Tigers.

Missouri has an open date this week, but what happens between Oklahoma and Iowa State at Norman, Okla., Saturday will have a direct bearing on the Tiger-Oklahoma game at Columbia, Mo., November 17.

The Tigers are undefeated in the conference and if Oklahoma achieves its objective against Iowa State the game at Columbia will match two Big Six perfect-record elevens in a game that can hardly escape deciding the title issue.

Missouri officials have announced an advance ticket sale of more than 12,000, better than half of Memorial Stadium's normal capacity of 24,000, for the Oklahoma-Missouri game. Temporary seats are being erected to bring the seating maximum to 28,000.

Polishing Pass Plays

Coach Dewey (Snorter) Luster was busy trying to get the Sooners "up" after their 7-13 loss to T.C.U. last week.

The preparedness programs for the Nebraska Cornhuskers and Kansas State Wildcats, who meet at Manhattan, Kas., Saturday, yesterday consisted of brisk aerial drills. Kansas State worked on pass defense, a weak spot in their doing all season, while the huskers had halfback Mack Robinson conditioning his pitching arm.

Controversy over advance sale of tickets for the Kansas-Missouri game in Kansas City November 24 overshadowed news of the Kansas Jayhawks practice session for their game with Marquette in Milwaukee Saturday.

Not Enough Tickets

Rumors were making the rounds of indignation among the alumni, principally those of Missouri, over failure to secure choice seats for the Ruppert Stadium game. Stadium manager Roy Hamey said that any blocks of tickets sold at the stadium came after an "understanding with the University of Kansas."

Earl Falkenstein, ticket manager at Kansas, explained that the one block of tickets already sold—750 to a Kansas City business firm—were not of the choice variety.

No one, including the architect, ever seems to know the exact seating capacity of a baseball park for a football game, but, adding Mr. Falkenstein's figures, 12,000 tickets were turned over to the stadium, 2,600 were kept at Kansas, and another 2,600 sent to Missouri—total, 17,200. And they are not expected to go around.

Mort Cooper Is Sued For Divorce

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7—(AP)—Mrs. Bernadine Cooper Tuesday filed suit for divorce against Mort Cooper, star pitcher for the Boston Braves baseball team.

In her petition filed in circuit court in suburban Clayton, Mrs. Cooper alleged that the baseball star had so changed that he showed no love and little concern for the welfare of her and their eight-year-old son.

Mrs. Cooper further alleged that Cooper refused to make any provisions for the future or accept employment during the off-season, drank to excess and became abusive when she remonstrated.

The petition stated that he had a habit of disappearing for periods of up to a month without explanation and when he left Nov. 2, date of their separation, he had just returned for his clothes after a 10-day absence.

The couple was married Oct. 14, 1936. Mrs. Cooper asks alimony for herself and support for the boy as well as attorney fees.

Cooper could not be reached immediately for comment.

Eddie Dyer is Manager of The Cardinals

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 7—(AP)—The appointment of Eddie Dyer as manager of the St. Louis Cardinals to succeed Billy Southworth was announced today by Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals. Dyer was given a two-year contract.

A former top-ranking executive in the vast Cardinal farm system, Dyer resigned a year ago to enter the oil business with his three brothers in Texas. However, he kept his finger in baseball by representing the Red Birds at meetings of the suspended Texas League.

Both owner Sam Breadon and Dyer refuse to comment on the possibilities, but sporting circles here freely predict that the deal was closed prior to yesterday's announcement that Southworth was going to the Boston Braves.

Was Card Pitcher

The Boston offer was made during the world series a month ago and it was believed here that Breadon asked that announcement be delayed until he had filled Southworth's job.

Dyer, now in his middle forties, once performed as pitcher for the Cards in the early 7920's, but found his greatest success as a minor league manager.

When the Texas circuit folded up for the duration, Dyer moved to Columbus and guided the Red Birds to the little world series championship.

Dyer took over an executive post early in 1943 as director of the Cardinals' double A farm clubs, a job he held until his retirement.

Give Challenge On Wage Issue

Manufacturers Of Autos Issue It On Report Made

DETROIT, Nov. 7—(AP)—The Automobile Manufacturers' Association Tuesday challenged a commerce department report that the car industry could advance wages over the next two years without increasing costs and still "make high profits."

George Romney, gentral manager of the association, made public a letter to Secretary Wallace asking for a "re-examination and correction of the statement on the basis of available facts." He asked also for the right on behalf of the car industry to examine and obtain copies of whatver statistical studies outhors of the report may have used to support their statements.

R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO) in a statement last Saturday, asserted that the government was withholding information showing the motorcar industry could grant 30 per cent wage rate increases and still make high profits.

The union has demanded 30 per cent wage increases throughout the industry and will resume negotiations with General Motors Corp. on the demand tomorrew. At the same time a strike vote will be taken in Ford Motor Co. plants in support of the demand. Workers of General Motors and Chrysler Corp. already have voted in favor of a strike.

"It would be wonderful," said Romney in the letter to Secretary Wallace "if the facts suported the department's theories.

Specifically Romney denied the following assumptions in the commerce department statement of November:

1. That materials cost would show no change in 1946 and only three percent increase in 1947 and five per cent increase in 1948 as compared with 1945.
2. That productivity of labor would show an increase.
3. That higher production "in and of itself" means higher profits.
4. That sales and profts of all companies in the industry would be affected alike by the arbitrary changes of wages and costs assured by the report.

General Motors corporation in declining today to have a federal labor conciliator present at the resumption of the wage conferences with the UAW-CIO, said in a statement:

"It never has been the practice of the conciliation service to enter a case until collective bargaining has been exhausted. The present dispute has not reached that stage."
